Working for it.

That the women voters of this city are a potent factor in local politics is a positive fact. Never before have the members of the fair sex taken such an interest in politics as they are taking this spring. They have certainly demonstrated the fact that they propose to take advantage of the privilege of voting granted them by the Kansas statutes.

While the Equal Suffrage Club and the Current Event Club are supposed to be non-partisan organizations, yet the members vote as they see nt and in accord with their political belief. Then the majority of the female voters of the city are not members of any club, but get out and cast their bailots on their own responsibility and for the men of their choice.

At the Republican primaries, recently held in this city, over 2,000 female votes were cast, and this number will be increased on election day. The candidates for the various city offices have awakened to this fact and they are all throwing houquets and saying all kinds of good things about the women, whose indorsement means so much to the candidate who receives it.

The action of the laborites last night was a big surprise to the fusionists, as they have surprise to the fusionists, as they have surprise to the fusionists, as they have surprised all the time that the labory would not place a licket in the field, but would join hands and get in the fusion would join hands and get in the fusion word. The application sets forth practically the same allegations made in the petition filed in the court of common pleas. Judge Holt, of the latter court, dismissed the case on a motion made by the attorneys for the plaintiffs on the ground that his court had no jurisdiction in the matter. He held that the probate court was the proper place for the alleged grievances to be adjusted. Judge Herr set the hearing on the application for Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

The claim upon which Mrs. McFarland seeks such heavy damages from the Metropolitan company is that she was permanently injured while in the act of boarding a car July 25, 1898. According to her petition she attempted to board a car at the corner of Seventeenth and Summit streets, Kansas City, Mo., for the purpose of going to her home in Rosedale. A Chapter on Colds.

SIMPLE PRECAUTIONS THAT MAY PREVENT SERIOUS CONSEQUENCES.

The Danger of Neglecting a "Common Cold"-Serious and Often Fatal Maladies May Result From Carelessness.

From the News, Harrisonburg, La.

In most instances colds are the result of cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills In most instances colds are the result of imprudence or a lack of forethought. Even in cases where a sudden change in the weather or an unavoidable exposure is responsible for the first slight cold, fresh and more severe colds may be avoided by observing a little care. But "a mere cold is such a common thing and causes so little inconvenience that notwithstanding all previous experiences we neglect to take the most simple precautions, in the way of wearing suitable clothing, the avoidance of draughts, etc.

wearing suitable clothing, the avoidance of draughts, etc.

One should always bear in mind the necessity of exercising a constant vigilance to avoid catching cold. When the temperature in the house is higher than that out of doors, never go out without putting on an additional wrap. Never sit in a cold room even though you do not feel chilly. And it is better to suffer a little discomfort from wearing heavy underclothing than to run the risk of a chill.

The following letter from a lady in Sicily Island, La., graphically illustrates the distressing consequences that are liable to follow a simple cold.

EIGHTY-ONE UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE STUDENTS GRADUATED.

Solemn Hippocratic Oath Administered Before a Crowded House at the Auditorium-List of the Graduates.

Eighty-one graduates of the University Medical college of Kansas City, arrayed in caps and gowns, stood up last night on the stage of the Auditorium and, after taking the solemn Hippocratic oath, were presented with diplomas which certify that they have complied with the laws of the state of Missouri and are entitled to the degree of Doctor of Medicine. It was a proud moment for each of the oung disciples of Aesculapius as he walked to the front of the stage to receive his President Allen, and a prouder one still for he friends and relatives who had gathered there to witness the transition from the redical student to the doctor. The occasion was the seventeenth annual ommencement of the college and it was a notable one in many respects. The class was the largest by twenty-five that ever graduated from the college and the audi-ence which packed the Auditorium from ence which packed the Auditorium from pit to dome might almost have been called a record breaker. The annual address by General John C. Caldwell, of Topeka, Kas., musical selections by the college glee club and Lenge's orchestra and the ceremonies connected with the conferring of the de-grees were the features of the entertaining programme.

musical selections by the college glee club and Lenge's orchestra and the ceremonies connected with the conferring of the degrees were the features of the entertaining programme.

Two musical selections by the orchestra, "Simfonio," by Martuccio, and "Polish Dance." by Schwarwenka, led up to the address by General Caldwell, who was introduced by President Allen. General Caldwell welt at some length on the giant strides which have been made in recent years in the science of medicine.

"Young men," he said, "it is not too much to say that since the youngest of you were born we have learned more and know more about the cause of diseases and their cure than was learned in all the time previous. In the last twenty-five years for the first time we have learned what causes disease: we have discovered and segregated the little microbes. It is but a step from knowing what causes a disease to curing it and in many diseases we have already found the cure.

"Man who studies history, not for the purpose of storing up bare figures and statistics, but for the purpose of learning of the world's progress and development, will find that while in all ages there has been a steady development at times there have been outpourings which have made notable the age in which they occurred. One of these periods of great advancement was 2,500 years ago, when the statesmen and philosophers of Athens discovered and taught true citizenship and pure democracy; another was in the sixteenth century marked by the reformation and the discovery that the world was round and not flat, as maintained by an all powerful church, claiming to have knowledge from Divine sources, and I believe the historian of the twentieth or of the timety-fift century will single out as a third such period the closing years of the nineteenth century on account of the unexampled development in experimental science.

"You young men, who go forth to-night to practice what you have learned, are in a different position from the man who graduated forty years ago. Old things and the diplomas.

When the eighty-one graduates had been drawn up in a solid phalanx at the front of the stage, Dr. L. A. Berger, secretary, read the roil and turned them over to Dr. Charles F. Wainwright, dean of the faculty, certifying that they had completed the course of the college and were ready to take the Hippocratic oath. This oath was then administered by Dr. Wainwright. The student takes upon himself the most solemn obligation to live a pure, honorable and upright life, to ever be loyal to his alma mater and his teachers, and to consider as sacred secrets which come to him in the practice of his profession.

When the oath had been administered Dr. Berger again called the roll and as he did so President Allen presented to each of the now full fledged doctors his diploma. Presentation of diplomas was followed by the presentation of diplomas was followed by the presentation of special prizes. To William T. Phy, of Union City, Ore., was presented the faculty prize of $100 in gold for the highest average in the class and to F. B. Fisher, of Springfield, Ill., was given the second prize, a fine case of surgical instruments, from the Physicians Supply Company, accompanied by honorable mention from the faculty.
